

CLO Manager Services

Actively managing a collateralized loan obligation can be a fraught endeavor. Given the various capital structures and debt tranches involved, just keeping up with payments can be burdensome and difficult. And in the hands of in-house staff who lack the right background and expertise, risk can rise above an acceptable level.

Alter Domus knows your loans, how to service them, and the jurisdictional demands. By providing the operational support of an experienced global team, we can help you navigate the nuanced and often thorny CLO environment. We'll help ensure compliance with all regulatory requirements, furnish the customized reports you and investors need for better decision-making, and deploy scalable technology that lets you do everything from store and access loan documentation to understand the impact of hypothetical trades.
