

Loan Administration

No two loans are alike, meaning it takes a special level of expertise to provide life cycle administrative services from approval to pay off. Those skills can be difficult to develop in-house. Even the best qualified and most highly trained staff member might not have enough exposure cross the full asset range to handle all the operational nuances.

As your loan administration partner, Alter Domus provides personnel who know all the ins-and outs of the entire asset class and have the technology at hand to ensure efficient, error-free services, including on-demand tracking, reconciliation, reporting, and data analysis. Our solution is global (we have a strong presence in APAC, Europe, and North America), scalable – your Alter Domus team will grow as you do – and frees you to concentrate on strategy and growth.
